To preserve and enhance the downtown area as the heart of East Point, communicating a sense of place, community pride and heritage, while providing for a successful business and residential environment.

The City of East Point's Fire Department is proud to present the 7th Annual Community Health Fair in Downtown East Point on Saturday, April 14th from 11am until 3pm. The health fair will be held at Fire Station #1 at 2757 East Point Street.

This year's health fair will focus on childhood obesity and an entire section of the health fair will be dedicated to prevention, early detection and educational information for children regarding this issue.

As always, the City of East Point's health fair will offer screenings for blood pressure, body mass index, breast exams, cholesterol & glucose, diabetes, HIV, prostate, sickle cell, as well as, information on asthma, chiropractic services, dental health, fitness coaching, massage therapy, nutrition, career and education, health and beauty and children's health insurance.

In addition to the many health screenings being offered, come enjoy the free prizes, games, raffles, refreshments, giveaways and entertainment!

BUSINESS OF THE MONTH

University Vision Center

University Vision Center is located in the historic Buggy Works building, just a short walk from the East Point MARTA train station. They opened their doors in Downtown East Point in 2011.

University Vision Center was started by husband and wife team, Dr. Valerie Acker and Dr. Michael Acker. They chose Downtown East Point because they liked the convenient location and they felt like there was a need for a family friendly eye center.

University Vision Center offers eye exams, glasses, contact lenses and sunglasses. Their eye exams include checks for glaucoma and cataracts. They also do LASIK surgery consultations and eye exams are available starting at 3 years of age! In addition, they offer quality eyecare and eyewear at affordable prices! “University Vision Center is focused on providing high-quality service and customer satisfaction - we will do everything we can to meet your expectations”, says Dr. Acker. “Our company is based on the belief that our patients' needs are of the utmost importance. Our entire team is committed to meeting those needs and as a result, a high percentage of our business is from repeat patients and referrals”.

An interesting fact about University Vision Center is that they accept a variety of insurance plans including VSP, EyeMed, DavisVision and more!

FLASHBACK FEATURE

East Point's Centennial Quilt : A History Lesson in Needlework

In 1987, members of the East Point Woman's Club stitched together a quilt to commemorate East Point's Centennial. Each of the 49 squares helps tell the story of East Point's history. The quilt is on display at the East Point Historical Society. This is the first in a series of East Point history lessons, as reflected in a sampling of the quilt's squares.

The land that East Point now occupies was Creek Indian territory until 1821 when the Treaty of Indian Springs transferred ownership to the U.S. government. East Point's settlers farmed and developed industries related to agriculture from the very beginning through the late 19th century.

The town that was to be known as East Point was the result of a strategic location where two railroad lines intersected. In 1847, the Georgia legislature chartered what was later named the Atlanta and West Point Railroad. East Point was its eastern terminus, where it met the Central of Georgia line that ran between Atlanta and Macon. In 1851, East Point gained official recognition with the establishment of a U.S. Post Office.

Farming and industry related to it grew around the railroad terminus. After the Civil War, East Point experienced a rapid growth in industry and housing for factory workers. Atlanta's demand for suburban development spilled over into East Point as well. By 1887, this expansion warranted East Point's incorporation by act of the Georgia Legislature. This design of the city seal features East Point's City Hall, its industrial base and housing opportunities. -Carole Griffith
